

NW Animation Fest

Portland • Eugene • 2015

FROM THE DIRECTOR

Welcome to year 5 of the Northwest Animation Festival!

Animation... It's filmmaking at the atomic level, crafting movies one frame at a time. It's an ecology: of hobbyists, students, schools, studios, freelancers, clients, funders, distributors, and festivals. It's a performance—like the symphony, ballet, or opera—that is transformed by its audience and auditorium. It's as varied as music: pop, classical, jazz and avant-garde each having their enthusiasts. The personal cost is outrageous, crafters trading hours of their lives for mere seconds of motion. But as a vehicle of imagination, putting an artist's living dreams on screen, it is unparalleled.

Back in year 1, a friend and industry veteran told me that starting an animation festival in Portland would either be a success, or a raging success. Well, I guess so. This season we received 1385 unique film submissions from 64 countries. My hand-picked team of 98 alumni/superfan jurors living in 8 countries helped select 176 for the International Shorts competition. Throw in the guest shows, NFB retrospective, feature films, and Industry Showcase clips, and I believe we're managing about 260 videos in the projection booth this year.

Yet, on a day-to-day basis, it's just me and a laptop computer. This is activism, not an institution! I love collecting the films, love encouraging artists, and using Google Translate to talk with people in Iran, Korea, Russia. And I'm wracking my mind for a new game plan, wondering how to survive what could now easily become a 2000-entries-per-year festival... With just friends, a shoe-string budget, and the Do It Yourself spirit. Any ideas?

Let's talk about it in the lobby. Because whether you're seeing indie animation for the first time, or have been with us for the whole marathon, here we are, doing this together. Review the show with your friend, pointing out photos in the program. Gush about your favorite—or kvetch about the one that wasn't to your taste. Ask, and I'll try to explain the aesthetic ideals that motivate animation's different sub-communities. I aim for a big umbrella, bridge-building, friendship. The festival is a variety show; I trust there'll be something in the mix for you to fall in love with.

The real joy here is not that the films are perfect, but that so many people are doing creative work. At the most basic level, a festival is just show & tell: everyone's latest best effort, celebrated on 50-foot screen. I'm amazed by what my peer artists have invented, and hope you will be too... Welcome to the show!

Thank you to everyone who has given their support to this colossal undertaking. It would not be possible without you! Thank you to the film jurors, the friends who've helped get word out, and the volunteers managing the lobby this week.

Thank you to our collaborators for this year's special events: the ASIFA-Portland team, Rob Shaw & Chel White from Bent Image Lab, Matt Mazza of Mazza's supperclub, Dennis Nyback from Oregon Cartoon Institute, Will Lewis from PIGSquad, Shelley Midthun from the Portland Development Commission, Tara Johnson-Medinger from POWFest, Demetra Gilmore Arnett from SIGGRAPH.

Appreciation goes to Carlos De Carvalho for the beautiful artwork featured in our posters and event promotion. Also to Joe Clark (joe-clark.com) for allowing us to use a bit from Tchaikovsky Timelapse for the festival identification clip.

A very heartfelt thanks goes to Assistant Director Gretchin Lair for endless help of every kind during the sleep-deprived months leading up to event day. ♥

Most of all, thank you to the filmmakers. Your films delight and inspire—it is a pleasure to help bring them to a wider audience.
